Task description:

2023 is the seventy-third year of the publication of Nineteen Eighty-Four. The Sydney Writer's Festival is dedicating part of its program to exploring the legacy of Orwell's work. Your brief is to create a multimodal presentation suitable for this event which explores the question:

To what extent does the exploration of human experience in Nineteen Eighty-Four and a related text invite you to reconsider your understanding of freedom?

As an influential speaker you need to engage the audience with a visual presentation (PowerPoint or similar) that enhances your talk. The visual presentation should outline the key points of your talk, as well as visuals that deepen the audience engagement with the talk. The presentation needs to be supported with an A4 leaflet that synthesises the talk's main arguments.

The feedback policy is as follows:

- 1. You are allowed ONE piece of written feedback provided by your classroom teacher.
- 2. You are allowed ONE verbal discussion with the classroom teacher to clarify any further questions.

Feedback can be given up until 2.30pm, Friday, 24h of November.

Assessment criteria:

You will be assessed on your ability to:

- Select and use appropriate processes and technologies for particular, purposes, audiences and contexts.
- Select and combine specific textual elements to create new texts and assess their effectiveness for different audiences, purposes and contexts.
- Analyse the diverse ways in which imaginative, informative and persuasive texts can explore human experience, universal themes and social, cultural and historical contexts.

Method of task submission:

Submit via library by 8.15am. Students will be allocated a time and will present their speech in front of a small group of peers. The time will be given to students prior to the due date.
